WELFARE WORKERS OF ALABAMA MEET TO DISCUSS BETTER SOCIAL CONDITIONS

New Legislation on Marriage Certificates Asked by the Conference

KILBY COMMENDED FOR SUPPORT OF PROGRAM

Special Attention Given to Work Started by Legislature of 1919

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., May 19.—Resolutions were adopted by the Alabama Conference of Social Welfare yesterday afternoon commending the policy of Governor Thomas E. Kilby in support of social welfare work and in the creation of the state child welfare department, urging the enactment of legislation regarding the issuance of marriage certificates, requesting the establishment of an institution for the treatment of women suffering with social diseases and urging the establishment of a reform school for negro girls.

The resolution came during a day of great activity during which the one hundred and fifty volunteer social workers of Alabama heard addresses on social betterment conditions throughout the state. Especial attention was given to the social work started by the legislature of 1919, which includes the creation of the child welfare commission, with a director who has had experience in social welfare work and the creation of a home for mental inferiors, which is now in course of construction at Tuscaloosa with an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars made by the legislature at the regular session in 1919.

Cleon B. Rogers, chairman of the board of control and economy, which has charge of all institutions and convict camps of Alabama, told members of the conference that the state administration is greatly interested in the development of all institutions of the state which are intended to make better men and women and that the progress already made has been one of the chief causes of pride among those connected with the administration. He said there are 8,046 persons in Alabama who are dependent upon the state. Included in the list are the persons who are mentally defective and are confined in the hospitals, the convicts, neglected and delinquent children, Confederate soldiers who are at the soldiers' home and the persons in the county almshouses.

Mr. Rogers said some of the county almshouses of Alabama are a disgrace to the state and that social workers should direct much time and attention to the correction of these institutions.

Dr. W. D. Partlow of Tuscaloosa, superintendent of the insane hospital, delivered an address in which he told of the care and treatment of the inmates of the hospital at Tuscaloosa. He said the care of mental deficient in the United States is costing more than thirty-two million dollars annually and that about fifty per cent of those now treated are curable. He offered arguments in support of the statement that much crime may be prevented by the treatment of children who are mentally defective.

Dr. Partlow said the first dormitory for the reception of mental inferiors was now in course of construction and should be ready for use by the first of the year. He said children will have preference until such time as all mental inferiors may be received.

Addresses on social work were delivered by Dr. A. T. McCormack of the Kentucky state board of health, James Logan, assistant manager of the American Red Cross at Atlanta, and several other social workers of Alabama. Dr. McCormack paid a tribute to Governor Kilby for the methods he has used in aiding social work and urged that the state institutions be strengthened. Miss Elizabeth Fonde of Mobile, who presided, made a talk on the necessity.

Opticians Meet.
Members of the Alabama State Optical Society gathered in Montgomery today for the annual convention of their organization which will continue for three days. Addresses on the problems of opticians will be delivered.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE DIES FOLLOWING AN OPERATION

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the United States supreme court died at Garfield hospital here at 2 o'clock this morning.

Death came after a valiant struggle by the aged jurist against complications which set in following an operation for bladder trouble last Friday night.

At the bedside when the Chief Justice passed on were Mrs. White and close relatives. Associate Justices of the Supreme court were with the Chief Justice almost constantly until a few hours before his death.

Since 1910, when he was appointed to the highest judicial office in the land by President Taft, Edward Douglas White has presided over the high court with a stern devotion to duty and strict sense of the great responsibility of his office. He had a reputation of being one of the most earnest workers that has ever held that position and his defense of the rights and prerogatives of the court are well known.

Mr. White first came before the nation in 1891 when he entered a senatorial contest in Louisiana. He fought a vigorous battle for the anti-lottery movement in Louisiana and was appointed to the Senate of the United States by the legislature of Louisiana. President Cleveland, in 1904, appointed Senator White to the Supreme court, a representative of the South and filling a vacancy which custom had always held to be the place of a resident of New York.

Plays were at half mast over government and private buildings in the national capital today and official, social and humble private Washington mourned the loss of one of the great men of America.

Funeral services will be held at ten o'clock Saturday morning at St. Matthew's church here. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery in Washington.

The Twins tied it up in the sixth. Carter singled to left and stole second. McDuff flew out to left. McClain beat out a hit to short, Carter going to third. McClain stole second. This fellow Lauderdale, who is not any Babe Ruth, but who manages to figure in batting rallies just the same, ambled up to the plate and socked one to Hamner, who elected to try for the fleet-footed Carter at the plate and naturally missed, Carter scoring, McClain going to third and Lauderdale to first. "Laudie" then swiped second and McClain came home. Lauderdale went to third when Brackin permitted Benedict's peg to roll between his legs.

Gibson, who by the bye is leading the Twin swatmen, got a blow to center and Lauderdale checked in with the tying run.

MANY NAMES ARE BEING MENTIONED AS CHIEF JUSTICE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—For the first time in eleven years the great office of the chief justiceship of the United States supreme court stood vacant today. The death of Edward Douglas White, the venerable chief who has presided over the court since 1910, brought to the surface today the under-current of talk and speculation that has been going on in Washington for many weeks as to his possible successor.

That name most frequently heard in connection with the succession is that of William Howard Taft, who as President in 1910, elevated Justice White to the chief justiceship. Before the death even of the venerable jurist, it was widely reported he had intended resigning to pave the way for the appointment of Mr. Taft. Since 1916 the Supreme court has been composed of five Republicans and four Democrats. The death of Chief Justice White, a Southern Democrat, reduces the Democratic representation to three. This fact is regarded as the most potent factor against the selection of Mr. Taft to fill the vacancy, as his appointment would give the Republicans a 2 to 1 representation.

Other names heard today in connection with the vacancy now existing include that of former Senator George Southernland, of Utah, Republican; and Senator John Knight Shields, Democrat, of Tennessee. Associate Justice McKenna is left the senior member of the court by the death of the Chief Justice.

TWINS DON FIGHT CLOTHES AND WIN ONCE MORE 7 TO 6 OFF RUSSELLVILLE

Five Run Lead Fails to Dampen Enthusiasm of "Mac's" Hirelings

McCLAIN HITS HOMER TO CENTER FIELD GROOVE

Cooper Unable to Hold Lead Presented Him by Team-mates

The Twins donned their fighting clothes yesterday after Russellville had gotten a five run lead in two innings and coming from behind defeated the visitors 7 to 6 in the most exciting contest of the season. The Twins made a clean sweep of the Russellville series here and this afternoon the clubs will renew hostilities in the latter's lair.

Robbed of the use of a spitball because of a misunderstanding regarding the permissibility of the moist ball in the Alabama-Tennessee circuit, Ware took up the hurling chores for the Twins but was hammered for five runs in the first two innings.

Manager "Mac" then began the use of his bean, as well as his extra players and he shifted his line up as much as possible in order to include right handed hitters to work against the fork handed twirling of one Cooper, a youth of much neck, but very, very little else, who occupied the mound for Russellville. Lauderdale relieved Lidsday at third and Roberts, a new comer, went to first in place of Beard. Mosely assuming the pitching burden for Ware. Incidentally Mosely pitched one of the prettiest games yet.

Russellville scored only once after the second. The Twins began the serious task of cutting down the visitors' lead in the second when McDuff singled and went to second on a passed ball and counted on McClain's long homer down the center field groove.

The Twins tied it up in the sixth. Carter singled to left and stole second. McDuff flew out to left. McClain beat out a hit to short, Carter going to third. McClain stole second. This fellow Lauderdale, who is not any Babe Ruth, but who manages to figure in batting rallies just the same, ambled up to the plate and socked one to Hamner, who elected to try for the fleet-footed Carter at the plate and naturally missed, Carter scoring, McClain going to third and Lauderdale to first. "Laudie" then swiped second and McClain came home. Lauderdale went to third when Brackin permitted Benedict's peg to roll between his legs.

MARINE STRIKE IS NEARER AN END

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—The marine strike appeared to be in a process of settlement today. Secretary of Labor Davis has been authorized by representatives of the seamen's, marine engineers and radio operators to proceed as their agent in procuring a settlement with the ship owners and the United States shipping board.

The secretary will confer again today with representatives of the strikers when final details of a plan for adjustment of the controversy will be worked out, and he will then go in to conference with the employers.

Acceptance of a 15 per cent reduction in wages, to be offset by increased overtime and other methods of compensation, is understood to be the basis of settlement the Secretary will work upon.

HARRISON AGAIN IS ELECTED PRESIDENT STATE FEDERATION ORGANIZED CRAFTS

Officers Are Named at Final Session Here Late Wednesday Afternoon

GADSDEN IS SELECTED FOR NEXT CONVENTION

Resolution Gives Thanks to Local Crafts, People and the Daily

The final session of the Alabama Federation of Labor convention which had been in session at the Masonic Theatre since Monday morning closed about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The last courtesy shown the delegates, was by the hundreds of automobile owners of the Twin Cities, who took the delegates in their cars at the theatre doors and "spinned" them through the streets between the "tall" buildings, out into the residential sections toward the Benevolent Hospital and back again over the hard cement roads to the water's edge of the "River of the Great Bead."

Had the following resolution, been written after this ride, instead of before it, some reference would doubtless have been made to the delegates last ride in the Twin Cities "till" they come again.

Albany, Ala., May 18, 1921.

A few moments before its adjournment sine die, near 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to meet next year in Gadsden by a rising vote, the 20th convention of the Alabama Federation of Labor, gave the Twin Cities warm words of praise and appreciation for aiding to make what a formal resolution declared was "the most successful convention ever held by this body." As shown by the copy of the final resolution, it was offered and read by W.

SEAY SILENT JAIL OFFICERS SAY THURSDAY

F. W. Seay, capricious prisoner, held here charged with slaying his bride at Florence Sunday night today was silent. Following days in which he talked freely, jail authorities this morning stated Seay no longer would discuss the case.

Seay's brother was here late yesterday, jail authorities said, and following his visit Seay became uncommunicative. Officials said that Seay was asked why he declined to talk and he wrote back the following message on a piece of paper "My brother told me not to talk." The prisoner was quiet today.

GIGANTIC LOAN TO FRANCE PLANNED

NEW YORK, May 19.—Arrangements are complete for a loan to France by American bankers of between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000, the International News Service learned today. It is to be raised within the next 60 days. Large as this loan appears, it is but preliminary to a gigantic loan scheme by which France proposed to realize on the German reparations long before even a small fraction of the indemnity has been paid by Germany herself, it was said here.

Huns Accused of Beating Soldiers
COBLENZ, May 19.—American military policemen today arrested several German civilians as the result of an attack upon two American privates in the American zone of occupation. The American soldiers, Frank Beeman and Burns McKnight, are both in the hospital. It is charged that the Americans were severely beaten and that Beeman was tied to an automobile with a rope and dragged for several miles.

BITTER ATTACK ON BRIAND MINISTRY LAUNCHED TODAY AMONG DEPUTIES

Series of Interpellations on German Indemnity Fired by M. Tardieu

OPEN BREAK BETWEEN ALLIES IS SPOKEN OF

Briand Declares He Intends to Hold Strictly to Point of View

By NEWTON C. PARKE
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, May 19.—A bitter attack was launched against the Briand government as soon as the Chamber of Deputies met this afternoon. It was opened by Andre Tardieu, former French high commissioner to the United States who fired a series of interpellations regarding German indemnity.

M. Tardieu assailed the government for permitting M. Dubois, French representative on the reparations commission, to agree to fix Germany's war debt at 132,000,000,000 gold marks.

"The amount fixed as the German debt was wholly inadequate," declared M. Tardieu. "The German government has been making concessions at each conference."

"I intend to hold strictly to my point of view," declared Premier Briand today to the new warning issued yesterday by Premier Lloyd George regarding Upper Silesia and France's support of Poland.

The opening of the most important debate in the Chamber of Deputies since the war fund the tension between Great Britain and France acutely increased.

Members of the Chamber of Deputies openly discussed the possibility of a complete rupture between the two powers, the bulwark of Europe.

The opinion was advanced, that Lloyd George deliberately put the Franco-British alliance in the balance believing Premier Briand would not dare to risk a complete rupture because of the situation in Germany, and believing that the French Prime Minister would back down.

WARNING ISSUED.
(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 19.—The Berlin government issued a proclamation today threatening prosecution of any person who attempts to recruit volunteers to fight the Poles in Upper Silesia. This action was taken following receipt of an allied note protesting any formal participation by Germany in the Upper Silesian troubles.

The Berlin government said this government would remain aloof, relying upon the treaty to protect German interests in Silesia. Polish rebels continued their depredations in Upper Silesia. Advice from Beusin said the Poles had seized 32 trains loaded with coal and had taken them toward the Polish frontier.

HARVEY TO ATTEND.
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—State Department officials set at rest today the uncertainty which exists in London over whether Col. George Harvey, personal representative of President Harding, will be present at the meeting of the Supreme council which takes up the Silesian question. It was definitely stated that unless unforeseen contingencies arise, Col. Harvey will attend the council meeting although his presence there will be wholly for the purpose of gaining information for the guidance of the administration in Washington.

FALL PREDICTED
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Lloyd George's government will collapse. This was the prediction made here today by J. H. Thomas, spokesman for British labor in parliament, and head of the British railwaymen.

"I have reason to believe that Lloyd George's government will collapse," said Mr. Thomas in an interview today.

PUBLICITY AT $90,000.00 A YEAR

No greater evidence of the power of publicity as vested in newspapers can be found in late years, than is seen in the decision of Mr. and Mrs. James Stillman of New York. It is reported that an out of court agreement has been reached by the "high sinning parties."

Mr. Stillman, rather than have innocent witnesses dragged further into the mire, has agreed to pay his wife, the former dashing Fifi Potter, $90,000 dollars a year alimony. However innocent Mrs. Stillman may be the power of publicity has forced her to retire from life and remain under a dark cloud of suspicion to say the least. If Stillman is right in his contention, in addition to his money loss and his loss of residence in his native land, publicity has forced him to give up the prosecution of a woman in high society. It is because the American people demand the "news," at all costs, that the newspapers had to print the details of the Stillman divorce trial.

Had not the American people such a keen thirst for the polluted fountains of knowledge and such an insatiable appetite for the mouldy bread of others sins, the Stillman's might have had their trial behind closed doors. The American public demands so much publicity, that few judges, who cared for their reputations, would care to decide what to do with the Stillmans unless every body was there to see the job well done.

Right or wrong, the world is going to know things whether they are wholesome or unwholesome. It would seem that the only safe course for the public generally and for individuals in particular to pursue is to arrange to become so well established in righteousness, and so mature of judgment, as that the ugly dirty things of life will have but little influence on them for bad. Just as physicians rightly insist that a robust constitution is a much better preventative of disease, then all the protection from without that is possible, so a high sense of honor and a delicate sense as to the eternal fitness of things is the surest guard and shield "against the fiery darts of the wicked." Whether the "wicked" happen to be Mr. and Mrs. James Stillman or others is of little consequence. In a word, to use an overworked expression "the protection of public morals" is to be established by the powers of resistance from within people, rather than putting the public behind smoked glass, and closing its ears.

When members of the "public" who are mature in judgment, such revolting details as the Stillman trial, should have a salutary effect, in that they disgust and repel. And for that reason will tend to lessen such crimes as the Stillmans are accused of.

BEATING 'FATHER TIME' AT OLD GAME IS NEW SPORT

It is an old saying, and it may be a true one, that a man is but as old as he feels, while a woman's as old as she looks. The moral is that we should, men and women, so shape our lives that the men will not feel old even when they are old in years, and the women will not look old, no matter how many summers have passed over their heads. Neither one of these is easy to do, but it is being done in many cases. Men of 85 now are as active and as vigorous mentally, and almost so physically, as men of 60 were a century ago, it is claimed by men who have compared careers of those now living with many who occupied similar positions in world affairs, who now are dead. Medical science has made longer and more useful lives possible, and it is being illustrated in present day experiences of many aged men and women.

One point at issue now is: When do people begin to grow old? To bring the matter right down to a point: Are you beginning to get old? This question interests you now, if you are on the shady side of 40, with crow's feet appearing around your eyes and stiffness creeping into your joints. Young folks, now light-hearted and indifferent to the steady flight of youth, will have their turn later.

J. N. Smith, Civil War veteran, lives in Muskogee, Okla. He's 85 years old. Learned to ride a bicycle when he was 80.

"One of my boys came home with a bicycle and said he'd learned to ride it," Smith says. "I said that wasn't much of a trick. The boy (he was only 43) bet me a new hat I couldn't learn. I took him up, and, in the face of a laughing wife and all the kids in the neighborhood, learned to ride in three days. And I'd like to see any of them beat me now for long or short distances."

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Barker, 80, is pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Peterboro, New Hampshire. Too old to preach?

"I'm as young as I feel—that's way back in the twenties," says "Mother" Barker. "After my marriage, following the Civil War, I quit preaching and settled down to rear my two children. I went to work in a shoe factory, as a stitcher. There I stayed until the children grew up. I've been preaching, off and on, all my life. Now, at 80, I've just received my second preaching license. "I keep young by preaching. It gets more refreshing every day."

Captain Thomas Haskell has been a reporter for 55 years on the same paper—the Portland (Maine) Herald.

He is 83 years old. Put in 10 hours every day. Specializes as a marine reporter, and is known among captains all over the world.

Haskell probably is the oldest active news reporter in America, with the exception of Tomer

Representative Isaac R. Sherwood, who at 85 is "covering" Congress for the Toledo News-Bee. And still some say that newspaper work is "a young man's game."

Age and youth are states of mind. Old age will not clutch you until you lose heart and, as the sporting editors say, "throw up the sponge."

There are a lot of the old boys who refuse to "throw up the sponge." John D. Rockefeller, Thomas A. Edison, Chauncey Depew and Uncle Joe Cannon are among the more notable of them. These men, whose ages are above the allotted three score years and ten, are as lively as many men of sixty and they refuse to grow old. If they can do it, why cannot others keep young in spirit despite the weight of years?—Anniston Star.

THE PRESS MEETING

One of the most enjoyable and profitable meetings of the Alabama Press Association held in some years was the annual meeting at Albany last week.

Editor Shelton, of the Daily, and his staff, were the personification of courtesy and kindness to the visitors, as were the people of Albany and Decatur. There was nothing too good for the editors, and the twin cities were turned over to them to do what they pleased.

The business sessions of the association were conducive of much good, but there were a few too many propaganda speeches which in times past have caused the wrecking of the association, yet as a whole the speeches were conducive of good, and many things were said which tended to put the editors to thinking of the problems that confront them every day and every week.

The entertainment features provided by the Morgan County Kiwanis Club were unique and interesting and enjoyable. The gridiron stunts pulled off by the club reminded us of the banquets that used to be pulled off in days gone by at the Birmingham Country Club by the press boys of that city.

This Morgan county club is composed of the best citizens of the twin cities and one can readily tell that the members are alive and awake to the importance and responsibilities of citizenship. There was a splendid feeling manifested among them that could well be emulated by other communities, and by Tusculumbia especially. This sort of spirit and co-operation as shown by the Morgan Kiwanians are the things that make towns and communities prosper.

We wish to congratulate the towns of Albany and Decatur upon having such a splendid set of boosters.

This year the association elected one of the most enthusiastic and prominent members as president in the person of Mr. W. T. Hall, of the Dothan Eagle. Mr. Hall is wrapped up in the association and we look for a most prosperous and glorious year under his matchless leadership. He will be ably assisted in the management of the affairs of the association by Webb W. Stanley, of the Greenville Advocate, who was named secretary. Both these men are young and progressive and will make splendid officials.—Colbert County Reporter.

JOBS AND WAGES TODAY

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for years has justly had the reputation of being one of the most intelligent, conservative and quiet organizations among all the labor associations. Perhaps that is the prime reason why it has been more successful and subject to less criticism, which inevitably comes in a greater or less degree to all human organizations.

The B. L. E. is not often before the public, but when it speaks through its responsible officials, it is heard with attention. The declarations of the head of this order, Warren E. Stone, submitted in his report to the triennial convention of the order now in session at Cleveland, have necessarily aroused public interest, having as they do behind them the authority which comes from one of the most significant figures in the labor movement. Mr. Stone said in his report that organized labor is today facing the worst crisis in its history. This is probably true, as it is true that for nearly a year past the farmers of America have been passing through the worst crisis they have ever had and have been unsuccessful in their efforts to prevent heavy and general losses. The labor organizations, in spite of the difficult crisis which they are facing, have been more successful than any other class of Americans in preventing losses in the past year. While Mr. Stone's remarks have a gloomy tinge, it is by no means certain, that the organizations will not be able to stave off losses.

But the statement, which has most to it, made by Mr. Stone, is that twenty thousand members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, almost a fourth of the membership, were without employment. This reveals the trend of modern industrial conditions, not to cut wages but to lay off men. So far, in the present crisis, which is a crisis not only for the laboring classes but for America, as wages have not been generally cut, but thousands upon thousands of men have been laid off. There is only slight indication that this is to be stopped soon—the discharge of men because industry cannot pay all its expenses.

Leaders both in industry and in labor must necessarily be concerned over men being thrown out of jobs by the thousands thus increasing the already vast number of the unemployed. One phase of the problem now facing the country is at put industry back on a paying basis, so that it can offer good wages and still have jobs for the men who want to work.—Montgomery Advertiser.

In a single issue I am not going to tell you about all the good folks who live in Albany-Decatur. I'm going to spread it over my lifetime in newspaper business. Whenever I'm in fine fettle you may reasonably expect something short and nice about those two towns.

Kiwanis Club of Albany-Decatur voted me "Alabama's best prohibitionist" and gave me a little gun as a souvenir. Now I can shoot a chicken.

Albany-Decatur folk are natural entertainers. Every editor who attended the convention there are willing to list their hospitality at 18-karat fineness.—Doty's Twinkles in Tuscaloosa News.

THANKS

The Daily force was complimented today with the gift of as good lettuce as was ever grown. Big, luscious leaves that not only are palatable, but freshen up the dining table for the spring time. In quality and size the vegetable equals anything shown here. The kindness of Mr. Yorbrugh is appreciated.

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past! At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal the way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern. THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 394 Como Building, Chicago. This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co., at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.—Adv.

Millions Use "Gets-It" For Corns

Stops Pain Instantly—Removes Corns Completely.

Everybody, everywhere needs to know what millions of folks have already learned about "Gets-It," the guaranteed pain-

End Your Corns With "Gets-It." No corn and callus remover. Any corn, no matter how deep rooted, departs quickly when "Gets-It" arrives. Wonderfully simple, yet simply wonderful. Because all soreness stops with the first application, get rid of your corn and wear shoes that fit. Big shoes simply make corns grow bigger. Your money back if "Gets-It" fails. Insist on the genuine. Costs but a trifle everywhere. Mkd. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Says Throw Away Tooth Pastes

A recent investigation made by prominent dental authorities disclosed the surprising fact that most tooth pastes and powders do a serious harm to gums and teeth instead of helping them.

Tooth pastes contain coarse, gritty substances, it was found, which gradually wear tiny holes in the teeth where decay germs can enter. Also tooth pastes and powders break the membranes of the gums where the germs of pyorrhea and other dangerous mouth diseases quickly gain foothold.

The only safe way to keep the teeth and mouth free from disease and decay germs is to use a thoroughly antiseptic liquid mouth wash such as Steroline. Being a liquid, Steroline gets between the teeth and cleanses all the hidden spots which ordinary tooth pastes and powders cannot reach. Steroline keeps the mouth cool, sweet and fresh, stops bleeding gums, and is a real preventive of the many diseases contracted through the mouth. Brush your teeth with it as often as you like. Sold and highly recommended by Albany Drug Company. Money back if you want it.—Adv.

Are you waiting for rents to come down?

Are you one of the millions who are patiently paying rents that are from 20% to 50% too high?

If you are, do you know the facts?

Do you know that Albany, Ala. is short 300 homes; that experts estimate the United States to be four years behind in building requirements?

The law of supply and demand always fixes prices. So long as there is a home shortage, landlords will demand high rents and tenants will be forced to pay them.

This one way out is to become a home owner yourself. You can build now cheaper than at any time in the past five years, and almost as cheaply, we believe, as at any time in the next five years.

Lumber and building materials have taken a tremendous drop. The complete cessation of building has caught manufacturers with big stocks which they have been forced to sell almost at cost.

If you buy now you can take advantage of their situation. If you wait, you will buy when everyone else is buying; and you will find the increasing demand forcing prices upward.

In our opinion, right now is a good time to build.

You owe it to yourself to investigate thoroughly. Call and see us, or a letter or phone call will bring us to you at once.

Harrison Again Is Elected President

E. Spain, a former resident of Albany, but now living in Birmingham, where he is active in the labor movement. As a final send off for his resolution Mr. Spain purposed "hurrah" for their hosts by the parting guests, which were given with a will. The last official act of the convention was the installation by M. E. Barganier a past president of the following officers, who without exception were elected by unanimous vote:

President, William L. Harrison, Birmingham.

Secretary-Treasurer, Lewis Bowen.

Vice-president, A. A. Liston, Montgomery.

Vice-president R. R. Moore, Birmingham.

Vice-president, M. G. Ginn, Mobile.

Vice-president, S. S. Smith, Selma.

Vice-president, Sam C. Hunt, Florence.

Vice-president, A. R. Whited, Gadsden.

Vice-president, A. P. Ezell, Anniston.

Vice-president Charles Knight, Bessemer.

Vice-president, Thomas Hammond, Jasper.

Vice-president, M. M. Wooten, Blocton.

Vice-president, W. R. McCluskey, Albany.

Delegates to Denver convention, of A. F. of L., William L. Harrison, Alternate to Denver convention, W. G. Gentry.

Counsel to the Federation, John W. Altman, Birmingham; J. A. Lipscomb, Bessemer; Melvin Hutson, Albany.

Next convention city W. E. Spain, Gadsden.

Gentry Makes Great Race.

One of the very pleasant surprises of the convention for his many friends was the great showing W. G. Gentry, made in his race against President Harrison himself, for delegate-at-large from the state to the Denver convention of the American Federation of Labor. The word was passed, when President Harrison was finally forced to let his name stand for delegate, that the local man could not win. But Mr. Gentry all but won what was perhaps the highest honor of the convention. A few more votes and he would have been in the run off, in which event Mr. Harrison's former pleas to "let him off" might have prevailed. As the final vote stood Gentry had 58 votes, J. W. Busby of Birmingham 19 and Harrison 86. This vote makes Mr. Gentry the alternate delegate to the great convention, according to a motion prevailing previous to the election.

Oratory to the Fore.

The oratorical fire works began with the nomination of delegates to Denver. Editor Mosely, of The Birmingham Labor Advocate, named Mr. Harrison in a graceful speech, calling attention to the signal service his choice for delegate had done the cause of labor. D. C. Jones, Chairman of the local delegates, nominated Mr. Gentry, paying a fitting tribute to his services in the cause of labor. Mr. Busby, was named by one of his colleagues in the Birmingham delegation in words of praise.

More oratory than ever however, was "developed" when Mr. Whited, an active church and union labor leader of Gadsden, placed his home city in nomination for the next convention. Whited also read telegrams from the Gadsden Mayor, from the Chamber of Commerce, and from industrial plants, which seemed to have great weight with the delegates. In vain did Editor Mosely, plead for "the

Weekly Letter of The Kiwanis Club

The following weekly letter of the Kiwanis club was sent out today.

Fellow Kiwanians:
The other evening I watched a fly shimmy on a piece of sticky fly paper in an endeavor to extricate himself from an embarrassing position. I don't know whether it was family or financial troubles that had produced his embarrassment or just a lack of common sense. Under ordinary circumstances soft music, preferably the "Death March from Saul" would have been in order, but that probably wouldn't have helped any and I am not a musician.

The past months of depression have found many a business man in a predicament similar to the fly and what the most of us have needed was not the "Death March of Saul" but an increase in faith, first in ourselves, and second in the integrity of our business institution. There is an increasing tendency on the part of big business and economic experts to view the future with courage and determination and whether the era of increasing industry and attendant prosperity is at hand we must leave to the experts to say. We believe there is an increasing disposition to complete unfinished work and undertake new and much needed undertakings. Soft music and a "Death March" brought to a corpse, but discouragement and depression has made a corpse of many a living man. If you can't jazz a little tie a can to the sob stuff.

Dinner Thursday night, Decatur Club rooms 7:00 P. M. May 19th.

Kiwanis yours,
E. F. BAIRD.

Mother city (Birmingham) of organized labor," and say that a warm welcome awaited the convention in the Magic city. And in vain, did S. L. Whited, who first placed Birmingham, in nomination, tell the delegates of the mighty industrial plants of his choice city. Also the eloquent pleas of W. E. Spain, and R. R. Moore, for Birmingham, fell upon deaf ears. Birmingham lost by nearly half a hundred votes over the city of Gadsden. A telegram was read by Secretary Bowen, from the city Commissioners of Montgomery as the voting was near asking that the delegates come to the capital, and that city was put in nomination, only to be immediately withdrawn.

Resolutions Galore.

Just prior to offering his resolution of thanks, Mr. Spain, read by request a resolution signed by Mrs. F. L. Lambert, in behalf of the ladies of the Westside Presbyterian church, expressing grateful thanks for the generosity of the delegates in patronizing their cafe service at the Y. M. C. A. Then Robert Moore Chairman of the regular resolution committee read resolutions galore.

One was offered demanding the release of Tom Moony, but it failed of passage. There was one by W. R. Cluskey and others asking the support of the convention for sheds over the carmen's repair yards in the local local R. R. shops; one reaffirming the stand of organized labor for production costs on manufactured goods; one of thanks to Congressman Hudleston, one from the miners thanking L. B. Musgrove and advising the reelection of President Harrison and Secretary Bowen; one endorsing the arguments made by President Harrison in his keynote address at the opening of the convention, condemning the two cents sales tax on each ton of coal; one upholding his position on the open shop, on the anti picketing law, the boycotts law and so on with out limit.

The first exercise of the last session was a number of Southern melodies, sung by a glee club of negro union miners of Pratt City. A generous donation was given by the delegates to the miner singers.

Following the songs of the negroes, Mr. Bailey, of Florence, an elder in the First Presbyterian church of that city, and who is given credit for "breaking up" the "open shop" movement in Florence showed a number of pictures from Sheffield and Florence, one of which was the parade entitled "Watch us grow" of the Union people who "closed the open shop movement under the leadership of Mr. Bailey.

The stoppage of work on the Wilson dam," said Mr. Bailey was the dirtiest piece of politics ever pulled off."

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
Georgia B. Miller vs. John Harbin Miller, Circuit Court, Morgan County, Alabama. In Equity.

In this cause, it appears to the Register, from the affidavit of Complainant, that the residence and post office address of the defendant, John Harbin Miller, are unknown, and can not be learned after reasonable effort, and that said defendant is over 21 years of age. It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made once a week for four consecutive weeks in the Albany-Decatur Daily, a newspaper published in Morgan County, requiring the said defendant to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by June 11, 1921, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against him in said cause. ed and the state board of optometry, which was created in 1919, will hold examinations of persons who desire to practice in Alabama.

H. J. Tippet of Dothan, president of the organization, is presiding while the following other officers are attending: W. H. Ruth, of Montgomery, vice-president; Dr. J. H. Tindler of Birmingham, secretary-treasurer, and Judge T. M. Rogers of Birmingham, counselor.

Members of the Embalmers Association of Alabama left for their homes today after completing their organization. E. J. Duncan of Alexander City was named president for the first year and the following other officers were named: H. B. Dowling of Eufaula, first vice-president; J. D. Foster of Tuscaloosa second vice-president, and J. J. Diffly of Montgomery secretary-treasurer.

Cases Thrown Out.

Indictments returned by the Jefferson county grand jury which charged fire insurance companies of the Birmingham district with membership in a monopoly in restraint of trade in articles or commodities and with violation of the anti-profiteering act of 1919 were thrown out of court by Judge William E. Fort when he sustained demurrers of the defendants Tuesday afternoon, according to information received by the state insurance department today.

Judge Fort held that sections of the code under which the indictments were brought had not been complied with and that even if they had been complied with the Supreme court of the United States had already held that fire insurance is not a commodity and there is serious doubt that it is an article within the meaning of the code. He also held that the indictments could not be maintained under the anti-profiteering act of 1919 because the legislature only contemplated in the act the punishment of persons who prevent the general distribution of necessities of life. He said fire insurance did not come within that class.

Since the indictments were returned several weeks ago a large number of inquiries have been received from other state from persons who feared Alabama was starting an anti-insurance war similar to the one which has caused fire insurance companies to quit business in Mississippi.

Judge Fort's ruling sustaining the demurrers was in the case of the state versus the Girard Fire and Marine Company, but the ruling will apply to all the indictments.

Plans for the continuation of the campaign of the Alabama Tax Payers League were made at a meeting of the executive committee and chairman of some of the counties here Wednesday. The meeting began early Wednesday and continued a greater part of the day. It is proposed to have a chairman in each county, who will organize his division.

W. F. Garth of Huntsville, chairman of the state organization, was reported as presiding at the meeting, which was held at the Exchange Hotel. He was quoted as saying that he had never before seen such unanimity on any question as there is now in favor of changes in the tax methods and in the economical administration of state affairs.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, May 18.—Lost! The crown jewels of Russia! Once again again! This time it's true. And it's a New York woman who has lost them. It came to light the other night when their loss was announced that $20,000 worth of these much-discussed Russian crown jewels have been in the proud possession of Mrs. Dorothy Caldwell Taylor of New York, who was formerly the wife of Claude Gramme-White, the English aviator. Eight large sapphires, each one set in diamonds, make up the loss. They were half of a $40,000 necklace which had been cut into two bracelets by Mrs. Taylor. While she was wearing them, this one bracelet slipped off over her hand, as trinkets are liable to do. The necklace had been made by Saberge, a jeweler of Petrograd, who in the old days did such work for the nobility.

Pretty soon New York is going to have so much home space that quite a few of our families will be able to have kitchens once more. Apartment house building increased 450 per cent these past twelve months over the preceding twelve.

Do you remember all the calamities which were about to befall the nation if women took up jury duty? Well, listen to this, and think of the "told you so's." Raymond Taylor, a lawyer of Newark, N. J., just across our Hudson river, applied to the Orange District Court the other day to have a verdict recently rendered by a jury of women against clients of his, set aside because Lloyd Beatty, the opposing counsel, had taken Tessie Grund, of the jury, out to lunch. Miss Grund admits the lunch but denies any conversation about the trial. Furthermore, it seemed quite natural that she should be invited to lunch without any ulterior motive of that sort.

More than ever will New York this summer be the haven of the ambitious students of music and the girls from all over the country whose family and friends, sweethearts and neighbors have assured them that a future on the operatic stage awaits their choice. Free voice trials will be opened within a few days at the chorus school of the Metropolitan Opera Company. All one needs now in order to say that one has sung before Gatti-Casazza is the railroad fare to the metropolis and enough nerve to go through with the effort. It truly is a splendid opportunity for girls seeking operatic experience and training.

Pat Daly has come east of the Rockies for the first time in 31 years; since he started prospecting in the Northwest. Pat is the recent labor candidate for the legislature in British Columbia and in spite of that fact he is down here in New York City conferring with his lawyer about a mining claim for $1,960,000. He is enjoying the visit; but he has grown so much interested in proving the jazz music originated in Ireland that he isn't giving his entire attention to that little less than two millions dollars. He went to a cabaret the other night and carried with him a tin flat which is his favorite companion, and for which he paid ten cents in Nome. His dinner companions persuaded him to pipe up a bit on the tin whistle, and he did, with such great success that the orchestra stopped while he soloed his argument anent the jazz.

Brock Pemberton, who had two big successes this season in "Miss Lulu Bett" and "Enter Madame" is leaving shortly for Europe to arrange for productions of the latter play over there. He has just announced that next fall he will present a play in which Lord Byron is the central character. It is entitled "The Pilgrim of Eternity." Joseph Schildkraut, now starring in "Liliom," will play the lead.

Anyone who watched the streets on the first of May knew into what channel the "restlessness" had been turned which had been talked of so much as about to take the form of "red" parades, or maybe even dynamiting! There was more or less excitement about this "restlessness" on the part of all that vast group of our friends who gaze at the stars and try to think of something to get real thrilled over. But no dynamiting nor rioting nor anything else picturesque took place. People just moved! They moved from uptown to downtown to uptown and one side of the street to the other. Nobody had a wish to upset affairs of the nation at all. It was just the same, old-fashioned restlessness that used to take the form of housekeeping and going fishing.

WILLIAM RUSSELL STAR
IN STORY OF REDWOODS
(Delite Today.)

The California Redwoods are the setting for a powerful story of love and adventure, entitled "The Man Who Dared," a new Fox photoplay starring William Russell, which is to open at the Delite Theatre today.

Advance reports indicate that Russell here has a starring vehicle well suited to him. He plays the part of a lumberjack boss who commits a sin in order to hold the love of a girl, and is led to repentance and atonement.

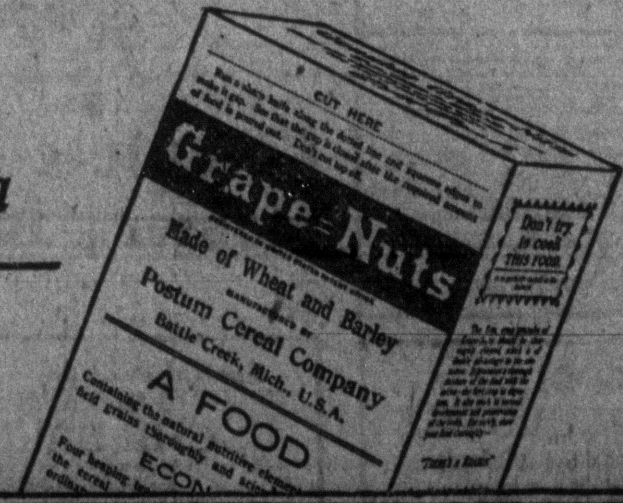

The story and scenario are by Julius G. Furthman, and Emmett J. Flynn directed the production. Supporting Mr. Russell are Eileen Percy—since made a Fox star—as leading woman; Frank Brownlee, whom all film fans know; Fred Warren, Lon Poff and a squad of California lumberjacks—the real article. The chief of the lumberjacks is Jack King, who has been in the forests since early boyhood.
